

Rogers Poultry Co.

Located in Los Angeles Ca.

Rogers Poultry has been a leader in poultry processing and distribution in So.Cal. for over 80 yrs. Promax has had a long and successful relationship with Rogers that includes two DC800 vacuum chamber machines, One TM500 continuous vacuum tumbler and one year ago added our new MSK44 Injector.

About the MSK44, Koen Hennon, Plant Engineer adds – We previously over the years purchased two European injectors and we were ready to buy our third. Due to the great relationship we have with Promarks we wanted to test their injector. Needless to say it never left, Right from the start, the quality and simplified engineering was impressive. The simple operation and consistency was exactly what we were looking for. When we purchased the MSK44, we expanded our capabilities and improved our efficiency. Our business often requires small order runs. The other two injectors we previously purchased are not capable of small runs without brine waste. The MSK44 allows us to do large to small orders without the waste, in turn saving money. Overall we are very pleased with our MSK44 including the service and parts availability. I would highly recommend this injector to everyone.
